

COURT FIGHT TO KEEP REMUS IN ASYLUM BEGINS

Ohio Court is Hearing Arguments on Habeas Corpus Move

Lima, Ohio, Feb. 20.—(AP)—The question of the jurisdiction of the fifth circuit court of appeals to rule on a habeas corpus action to release George Remus, Cincinnati wife-slayer, from the state hospital for the criminal insane here, was raised by the state when the hearing on the writ opened here today.

Sentenced to the hospital for the criminal insane here after a jury at Cincinnati had found him not guilty on the ground he was insane when he killed his wife, Imogene, Remus based his application for the writ on the ground his commitment papers to the hospital were faulty.

L. C. Davis of Columbus, Assistant State's Attorney, cited various court decisions to uphold his contention that the court was without jurisdiction, as the Ohio law provides that superintendents of criminal insane hospitals are clothed with authority to pass on the mental condition of patients. Davis declared it was incumbent on the superintendent to say whether Remus was sane or insane at the present time.

Will Rule Later.
The court cut the state's arguments short and ordered the state to proceed with the case saying it would rule later on the question of jurisdiction.

Remus was in court consulting with his attorneys. He appeared in a jovial mood.

The first defense witness, Dr. Shelby Mumma, former physician at the Longview hospital, Cincinnati, went into a detailed account of his examination of Remus. He declared that from his observations of his reactions, expressions and other characteristics, he was convinced that Remus was sane.

The state objected to his testimony on the ground he was not competent to give opinions on a sanity examination, but the court overruled the objection. Cross examination of Dr. Mumma by the state was under way when court recessed at noon. Five more alienists are scheduled to testify.

May Ask League to Indicate Its Stand

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Possibility that the trustees of the Ohio Anti-Saloon League may be called upon to indicate the league's stand in the presidential fight in this state between Senator Frank B. Willis and Secretary Herbert Hoover was admitted today by E. J. Moore, league superintendent.

"It is possible that the trustees of the league may be asked to meet and define the league's stand on the two candidates," Dr. Moore said.

Dr. Moore said such a meeting could either be called by him or by the state executive committee acting on his recommendation. The meeting if called would be held here.

NEARLY 2,000 LETTERS SENT FROM DIXON FOR LONE EAGLE TO CARRY ON HIS MAIL ROUTE

Jacksonville Preacher to be Here Three Days

REV. M. L. PONTIUS, D. D.

The churches of Dixon in arranging the pre-Lenten services for this year have secured Rev. Myron L. Pontius, D. D., pastor of the Central Christian Church of Jacksonville, Illinois. Rev. Pontius is a native of Indiana; educated at Hiram College, Hiram, Ohio; Tri-State College, Angola, Indiana; Yale University. He received his degree D. D. from Illinois College, Jacksonville, in 1924. He has been in the ministry for 26 years, including three years at Yale. He has served his present church at Jacksonville for nearly fourteen years, which in itself is a very good record. It is hoped that the people of Dixon will grasp the opportunity of hearing this able preacher and speaker on the three evenings of this week, beginning Wednesday at 7:30. His subjects will be as follows:

Wednesday: "A Christ Centered Life."

Thursday: "A Christ Centered Church."

Friday: "A Christ Centered Home."

On Thursday at noon a banquet will be held at which the laymen and ministers will have the privilege of hearing the pre-Lenten speaker give a message on "Man's Gift to God." The banquet will be served at the Y. M. C. A. Those planning to attend are asked to notify their pastors or the Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. by Tuesday evening.

The ministers of Dixon and vicinity will also have the privilege of hearing the speaker on Friday morning at 10:30 on the subject "The Sermon Itself."

It is hoped that these services will prove a blessing as heretofore.

LEGISLATION TO PROVIDE NAVAL SHIPS PLANNED

House Committee Will Heed Recommendations of Wilbur

Washington, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Having heard a great deal of testimony for and against administration's proposed $740,000,000 naval construction program, the House Naval committee is prepared to begin drafting the necessary legislation to put before the House.

Prediction that the committee would follow the recommendations of Secretary Wilbur, except in one respect, was made last night by Representative Britten of Illinois, ranking Republican on the committee. In his opinion the committee will include in the bill provision for 25 cruisers to replace 22 obsolete craft, five aircraft carriers and 35 submarines.

The one exception in prospect concerns Secretary Wilbur's recommendation for nine destroyer leaders. Representative Britten said they might be left out of the bill because there remain 12 destroyers authorized under the 1926 program, and these might be converted to the leader class later if the Navy desires and when the Treasury balance will permit.

Representative Britten said he did not believe that fixing of a time limit for laying down or some of the ships would meet with serious opposition by President Coolidge, and he suggested that such a limit might be established in the bill for ten or fifteen of the cruisers and one or two of the aircraft carriers.

Completion of the new cruisers in 1936, Britain said, would give the United States only 330,000 tons of 8-inch gun cruisers against the British proposal at the Geneva arms conference of 580,000 tons, and that the 35 submarines to replace the old ones would aggregate 9,000 tons less than the 93,364 tons now in that type of craft.

Mrs. Theodore J. Pitzer has returned from a three weeks visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hartzell, who have recently moved to Vienna, Ill. on a farm. Mrs. Pitzer reports that the Hartzells like their new location very much.

Six Planes Needed to Carry His Mail on Flight Tonight

Postmaster Moyer reports most wonderful success in securing the cooperation of Dixon post office patrons in putting over the sale of air mail stamps and envelopes which are to be carried by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh on his flight, Chicago via Springfield and Peoria, and return, today and tomorrow.

The postmaster praised his force for they were back of the proposition to a man, and some among them displayed real salesmanship.

The mailing public who helped to make the sale so successful are entitled to the heart felt thanks of Dixon post office organization, for they have put Dixon on the air mail map. During the sale 1600 air mail stamps and 1850 air mail envelopes had been disposed of up to Saturday night last, and some are being sold yet today.

SIX PLANES NEEDED

St. Louis, Feb. 20.—(AP)—A flurry of airmail letters poured into postal stations and corner mail boxes today responding to the call of a modern Pied Piper, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh. From all kinds of people came the red, white and blue missives in a last minute rush for the one day return of Col. Lindbergh to his old St. Louis-Springfield-Peoria-Chicago airmail route.

Meanwhile, Col. Lindbergh's plane, assigned for the flight, one of the regular airmail machines, and five others were at Lambert-St. Louis field ready to take on their cargoes. Postal men estimated the number of letters consigned to the flight would run close to 200,000. More than 100,000 pieces of mail had been collected last night, and collections were to be continued almost to plane time.

The flight was scheduled to start at the regular airmail time, 4:15 P. M. It was expected the planes would reach Chicago at 7:15 P. M., after stopping at Springfield and Peoria to discharge and load cargoes of souvenir letters and regular mail.

All Want Moments—Phillip R. Love and Thomas P. Nelson, Lindbergh's "buddies" on former airmail flights; Harlan E. Gurney, E. L. Sloniger and Leslie Smith, the regular airmail pilots of the Robertson Airmail Corporation, were chosen to accompany the famous flier on the flight.

Most of the 100,000 letters in the postal stations last night were mailed by persons outside of St. Louis. These had been enclosed in envelopes addressed to the postmaster and contained instructions to mail them for the Lindbergh flight.

The record breaking batch of mail was attributed by postal officials to the desire of the public to have mementoes of the "Lone Eagle's" temporary return to the airmail. Each letter bore the legend "Lindbergh again flies airmail."

It was arranged to have Col. Lindbergh fly each of the planes for a part of the distance to Chicago so that he would have a chance to carry all of the letters during some part of the flight.

THREE COMPLETE STATE TICKETS IN FIELD FOR CONSIDERATION OF VOTERS AT PRIMARY APRIL 10TH.

BULLETIN

Springfield, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Candidates for State Treasurer and Attorney General on the Republican ticket were included in the supplementary list of nominating petitions filed with the Secretary of State, made public today.

Both are Chicago men. I. J. Brown of 4351 N. Spaulding avenue, filed for Treasurer; and John P. Tyrrell, 105 S. Mayfield, for Attorney General.

Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom's nominating petition for re-election was expected today, as was that of Otis F. Glenn of Murphysboro for United States Senator on the Deeney-Emmerson ticket.

On the Democratic ticket, additional filings included those of James O. Monro of Chicago, for United States Senator; Bert C. White of Chicago for Secretary of State; William O'Rourke, Chicago, for Auditor.

Carlstrom, announcing his withdrawal as a move toward harmony among those opposing Gov. Small, will seek renomination and election as Attorney General.

A downstate, Otis Glen of Murphysboro, is on the Deeney slate for United States Senator, opposing Frank L. Smith, whose credentials were turned down when presented at Washington. Smith, who resigned and was reappointed, will be on the Thompson-Small ticket.

While the Republicans are having a primary battle, the Democrats will enter the nominating election without discord so far as major state offices are concerned.

E. Thompson of the state supreme court is unopposed for the gubernatorial nomination. Anton J. Cernak, President of the Cook County Board of Commissioners, who at first said he would seek the governorship, will be a candidate for nomination as United States Senator.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Three complete state tickets, two of which are Republican, the other Democratic, have been placed in the field for the consideration of primary electors following intense, but harmonious, week-end conferences.

PAN-AM. CONGRESS NEARS FINISH OF ITS DELIBERATION

Thought to Have Done More Than Previous Meetings of Kind

Havana, Feb. 20.—(AP)—The Pan-American Union Convention was concluded this morning by the signatures of the heads of the delegations to the sixth Pan-American Conference.

This convention provides for reorganization of the Pan-American Union with respect to its governing board and its activities in general. It was over the preamble of this convention that Honorable Pueyrredon of Argentina came into conflict with the United States and other American republics. In consequence he resigned his post, and the Argentine government ordered the delegation to approve and sign the document.

Havana, Feb. 20.—(AP)—With agreements and treaties arrived at ready for signature, the Pan-American Congress moved rapidly today toward the conclusion of its labors. Controversies on questions of the tariff and intervention had ended and only the formalities of closing the session were before the delegates of 21 American republics.

The United States representatives, it is stated on the rightest authority, consider that more progress has been made on the program of this gathering than at any of the previous ones. The accomplishments of the conference include:

Its Accomplishments.
Establishment of the principle of compulsory arbitration for the settlement of inter-American disputes, except those pertaining to the sovereignty and independence of nations in purely domestic problems.

A Pan American Union Convention, placing that body on a permanent basis and permitting members to have special representatives on the governing board instead of diplomats regularly accredited to Washington.

A treaty on the rights and duties of neutrals in event of war.

A commercial aviation convention open to the signature of all countries.

A treaty placing aliens aboard on the same footing as nationals.

A treaty establishing the right of asylum, to which the United States entered formal reservation.

A treaty providing for international cooperation for the suppression and prevention of revolutions in each other's territories.

New Sanitary Code.
Adoption of a Pan American sanitary code.

Plans for an inter-American automobile highway eventually extending from Canada to Patagonia.

A convention of maritime neutrality, the United States entering a reservation to the clause forbidding the arming of merchant men for defense in time of war.

A code of private international law dealing with the judicial status of persons, marriage and divorce. The United States declined to participate on constitutional grounds.

The United States delegation regards the resolution on compulsory arbitration as perhaps the brightest achievement of the parley. A conference must be called within a year in Washington to discuss minimum exceptions and draw up a Pan American Convention for arbitration.

Death Probably Struck W. H. Fee at About 9 Sunday Eve

William H. Fee, agent for the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad at Ashton for the past 25 years, was found dead on the porch at his home this morning shortly after 7 o'clock by neighbors. It was believed that he was stricken about 9 o'clock last night, while going home, as the body was frozen badly.

Coroner Frank M. Banker of Franklin Grove went to Ashton this morning and after an investigation conducted an inquest over the remains at the Stephan undertaking parlors. A jury, composed of George Stephan, foreman; Charles Hunter, Lewis Wood, Ray Farver, Raymond Hart and George W. Schafer, after hearing testimony of several witnesses, returned a verdict finding that death was due to a sudden attack of heart failure.

Mr. Fee attended Sunday school and church services Sunday morning and in the afternoon took a train to DeKalb, returning to Ashton last evening about 8:30. At that time he appeared to be in his usual good health and did not complain of feeling ill to any of those with whom he conversed.

W. D. Force, telegraph operator at the depot, testified that he talked with Mr. Fee after he had left the train. William Jenkins, operator on duty Sunday morning told of talking with Mr. Fee early in the afternoon and both observed nothing unusual in his actions.

Walked as if ill.

George F. Schafer, who was returning home from church services last evening about 9 o'clock, testified that he saw Mr. Fee walking about 20 feet ahead of him as the latter neared his home, and that the man appeared to be ill and walked as if it were an effort for him.

Mrs. Lillie C. Vogel, who resides across the street from the Mrs. Bremmer home, where Mr. Fee resided, went out on his porch this morning to put out the milk bottles. Looking across the street, she saw the body on the porch. She notified her father, George F. Schafer, and together they went to the Bremmer home and identified the body as that of Mr. Fee. Mrs. Bremmer had not heard him come up on the porch last night and did not hear him fall.

Dr. E. M. Sheldon testified that Mr. Fee came to him several days ago and asked for a medical examination. The physician stated that Mr. Fee at that time expressed a premonition that he would not live long, when he stated that he believed he was suffering from high blood pressure and was gaining considerably in weight.

Was Well Known.

He had not returned to undergo the examination, however, and while the physician met him on several occasions, he appeared to be in his usual health. To others who had known him quite intimately for a number of years, he had stated that he believed that he was leaving Ashton next summer and go to California to join his wife and a daughter.

Eddie Foy's Funeral

New Rochelle, N. Y., Feb. 20—(AP)—

This Westchester county city was saddened today as it paid tribute to its best-loved citizen—Eddie Foy.

Little incidents in the life of the popular comedian were recalled by the old townspeople as they filed past the bier at the home of Eddie Foy, Jr.

where they widow and six of the

"Seven Little Foy's," who shared fame with their dad, were gathered about the coffin. Flowers were in profusion.

Taxi drivers and trades people rubbed shoulders with stage celebrities to honor the memory of the man who had made several generations of theater-goss laugh. There also was

Tom Barry, who wrote the vaudeville sketch, "The Fallen Star," in which the dean of clowns was playing when fatally stricken last Thursday in Kansas City.

The funeral will be held tomorrow.

secration. Each member will receive ed Palm Sunday morning. The pastor will preach on a series of themes of his own choosing which may be every family will receive one. The theme for Ash Wednesday night is

"Behold the Prophet!" Our Lenten

To attend all services.

To bring a friend.

To bring a self-denial offering.

GRACE EVANGELICAL CHURCH

North Side

E. Fellows St. and N. Ottawa Ave.

Rev. F. Brandeliner, Pastor

There will be no services at the church this week on account of the union pre-lenten services to be held at the St. Paul's Evangelical church on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings.

The third sermon of the series on

Life and Death preached by the pastor last Sunday evening was on the subject, "The Resurrection of the Dead or the Bodily Resurrection."

Some of the high places in this important sermon were: The Resurrection is taught in the Scriptures in word, figure, prophecy and reality.

The hope of the Christian is the redemption of the body, which will take place when the Lord Jesus comes back again. The resurrection is to be a literal one of all men—universal,

as the Apostle Paul says in 1 Cor. 15:22

"For as in Adam all die, so in Christ shall all be made alive." In the body in which man lived, he will have to answer before God some day. The redemption of the body is included in man's complete redemption. The salvation of the soul comes about, when a man accepts Jesus Christ as his personal Saviour; the work of our Lord now, while in heaven as our

Mediator, is a part and will be completed when the Lord Jesus returns.

The nature of the resurrection body is determined by the body, the Lord now has. Does He have the same body?

Yes. Another body would be a new creation and not a resurrection. Being the same body, it is different, only that instead of living by blood as He did before Calvary, He now lives by the Spirit. It was in that body that the Saviour moved among His disciples for 40 days and was seen of above 500 brethren at once. He is coming again. This is the hope of the church and the desire of the true believer who waits for the coming of the Lord, is being purified as we read in 1 John 3:3 "And every man that hath this hope in him purifieth himself, even as he is pure."

The subject next Sunday evening will be "The Judgment Seat of Christ or the place of rewards."

Missionary Society Meeting Thursday

The W. M. S. of Bethel U. E. church met at the church on Thursday afternoon.

The meeting opened with the singing of two songs, "Stand Up, Stand Up For Jesus," and "Redeemed." The Scripture lesson was taken from St. Luke 10-25-37 and was read by Mrs. John Nelson.

Rev. Quincer led in prayer other members following with short prayers.

Mr. Porreit gave a very pleasing piano solo, "Just When I Need Him Most."

An article written by Mrs. Josie McToln entitled "Our Stewardship" was read by Mrs. C. E. Hill.

A short business session was held at this time after which Mrs. Milton Amie gave a very interesting talk to the ladies. Mrs. Amie had been in active service in missionary work in the Congo district Africa.

A vocal solo, "His Eye is on the Sparrow," sung by Mr. Porreit, was enjoyed at this time.

Mrs. Quincer offered the closing prayer.

The testimonial to Mrs. Lindbergh, representing the high regard in which she is held by more than 180,000 teachers in all parts of the country, is to be presented while her famous son, Col. Lindbergh, looks on.

Two tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1-2 cups milk, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 1 cup flaked cooked fish, 3 cups cooked macaroni, 2 hard cooked eggs, 4 tablespoons coarse buttered crumbs.

Melt butter, stir in flour and slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Season with salt, pepper, parsley and lemon juice and bring to the boiling point. Remove from fire and add fish. Put a layer of macaroni into a well buttered baking dish. Add a layer of sauce and slices of hard cooked eggs. Continue, layer for layer, until all is used. Cover with buttered crumbs and bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven.

M. E. Annual Birthday Luncheon of W.H.M.S.

The annual birthday luncheon of the Women's Home Missionary Society of the M. E. church was held Thursday in the dining room of the church with the officers and unit leaders as hostesses. It proved a most enjoyable affair with sixty present. Flowers and candles were the decorations.

Just before the last course was served, three members entered the room, each carrying a birthday cake, much to the surprise of three certain members present. The committee in charge had learned it was the birthday of Mrs. Charles Willford, the president of the society, and she was presented with a fine cake. Then Mrs. Alice Anderson who is the birthday secretary of the society, and in whose honor the luncheon was given was presented with a cake, a hollow birthday cake as it afterwards developed as the society will have attained its fiftieth birthday in 1930 and later in the afternoon the members deposited their offerings in the cake. Then Miss Estelle Anderson, whose birthday is Feb. 8th, was presented a cake bearing 13 candles representing the thirteen years she has given service as treasurer of the society. Mrs. H. D. Bills, in a pleasing manner, presented each with their cake, after which all joined in singing "Happy Birthday to All." Following the luncheon a very interesting program was given, including the hymn, "I Love to Tell the Story," followed by the Lord's Prayer, a solo by Mrs. Myrtle George accompanied by Mrs. Lulu Grober. The president of the society then introduced Mrs. C. F. Balch of Evanston, the conference secretary who gave the interesting address of the afternoon.

Mr. Kirby Reed and Mrs. H. A. Ahrens gave a vocal duet. Mrs. Wink a guest from Sterling then gave a few remarks.

The birthday offering was then received and here the "hollowness" of the secretary's cake was revealed. During the receiving of the offering Mrs. J. C. Koller presided at the piano and all joined in singing the Jubilee Song. In 1930 the society will celebrate its fiftieth anniversary.

Mrs. C. H. Balch offered the closing prayer. All members not present may hand their birthday offering to Mrs. Alice Anderson.

Annual Banquet Girls' N. S. Gym Class

The North Side Girls' Gym class held their annual banquet Thursday evening in Kindergarten hall. Each member of the class invited a guest, forty-two girls present, and all spent a very happy evening. A delightful supper was served after which Joyce Warner read a prophecy, which was enjoyed by everyone present. A one act play was given after which all the girls joined in the games and the dancing. Mrs. H. A. Lazier, Misses Beth Beede, Mae Lesendorff, Edith Slothower and Jane Buckaloo won prizes in a fake track meet.

THURSDAY READING CIRCLE BANQUET

STUFFED PANTHERS GUARD MOTOR CARS

Paris—(AP)—Life-sized panthers are the newest mascot of Paris motor cars.

Genuine skins are softly stuffed so that the animal looks alive as it lops over the arm of an elegant Parisian, or sprawls on the cushions of her motor car.

The high cost of panther skins is expected to assure the exclusiveness of the mascots for some time.

The WOMAN'S DAY by ALLENE SUMNER

BY ALLENE SUMNER
Franklin S. Harding, 61, Chicago millionaire, and Anne Livingstone, 30, were all ready for their wedding. It was to be the bridegroom's second. The invitations were out, the money-moon tickets bought, the minister engaged. Then the groom-to-be showed a paper before his bride-to-be which he asked her to sign. If she signed she would waive all claims to her husband's wealth if she survived him, in payment of a lump sum of $100,000 at his death. She refused to sign. The wedding was called off.

ANOTHER CASE

The long rumored rift between millionaire Harold F. McCormick, also of Chicago, and his second wife, Ganna Walska, who says she is a singer, has come to a head, rumor has it, with McCormick's attempt to buy back from Ganna the $2,000,000 worth of stock which he gave her as a nuptial gift. A restriction attached to the gift said that if Ganna ever wished to sell her stock her husband should be given first chance to buy. This was to prevent a "dumping" of the stock upon the market at the wrong time. Ganna is ready to sell but she wants more than $2,000,000. She wants nearly $6,000,000, which is the present market value of the stock.

IS IT FAIR?

Both these women are severely censured, of course. But is such a condemnation fair? Even if a woman were utterly devoid of mercenary motives, could she afford to marry a man who manifested his own mercenary instincts to such a degree that he wanted to be sure just how much and just how little cash his widow would get? Could any woman be very sure of the affection of a man who would be more concerned with his own monetary protection than with hers?

A JAZZED WEDDING

Five of the bridegrooms' boy friends dressed in bridesmaids' trappings and carrying bridesmaids' bouquets officiated at the recent wedding of their fraternity brother, Walter Phillips, to Miss Margaret Rochester.

Beside the boy bridesmaids, other novel features of the wedding were its performance in the cellar of a fraternity house, a jazz band playing a ragtime wedding march, no ring, an insistence on calling the marriage "partnership wedlock" and the substitution of the words "until love dies" for "until death do us part."

HOPE THEY BLUSH

How amateurish and young this modern version of a marriage sounds! Here's hoping that life will teach these youngsters enough so that when they are ready to celebrate their silver or golden wedding, if any, they will prefer the tried and true good old-fashioned garden variety, and blush a little for their first wedding with its horseyplay of boy bridesmaids and a jazz band.

Gave Play For Dixon Woman's Club

The interesting sketch of the origin of the drama by Principal B. J. Frazer and the one act play "Pipe of Peace" dramatized by Margaret Cleaver and Roland Reagan, two members of the N. D. H. S. Dramatic Club brought to the Dixon Woman's Club members and guests Saturday afternoon a delightful treat.

The play "The Pipe of Peace" was one of those one-act plays where only a few characters are required, but these characters must possess keenness of mind and alertness of action to put across to their audience a successful entertainment. The young actress and actor exhibited these qualities in high degree much to the delight of their audience.

They deserve a great deal of praise for their splendid work as does Principal B. J. Frazer, their director. The chairman of the literature department, Mrs. Wells, introduced Mrs. Koller, wife of the Y. M. C. A. Secretary, one of our new members, who favored the club with two well played piano selections. It is always a pleasure to hear from the talented members of the club.

The serving of dainty refreshments in the church dining room by the hostesses Mesdames Bills, Willford, Morris, Scott, Starks, Miss Ada Decker and Miss Bess Decker, brought to a close another happy club meeting.

Pearse-Hoyle Wedding Saturday

Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the parish house, in Walton, Father T. G. Flynn, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church in Walton solemnized the marriage ceremony which united the lives of Miss Mabelle Elizabeth Pearse, daughter of Franklin M. Pearse, of 704 North Galena avenue, and William Wilfred Hoyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter S. Hoyle of South Dixon township.

The bridesmaid was Miss Lucile Pearse, sister of the bride, and Paul Schaeff attended the bridegroom as best man.

The lovely dark eyed bride wore a beautiful wedding gown of white flat crepe becomingly made, trimmed in pearls and rhinestones. She carried a shower bouquet of Killarney roses, Furly freesia and white sweet peas.

The bridesmaid wore a charming gown in ecru flat crepe, and a corsage of Dreaux roses, coral sweet peas, and purity freesia.

The ceremony which was private, was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's father, which was attended by fifty guests, relatives and intimate friends. The dining room where a delicious wedding collation was served, was decorated in pink and white, with a profusion of flowers and pink and white tapers.

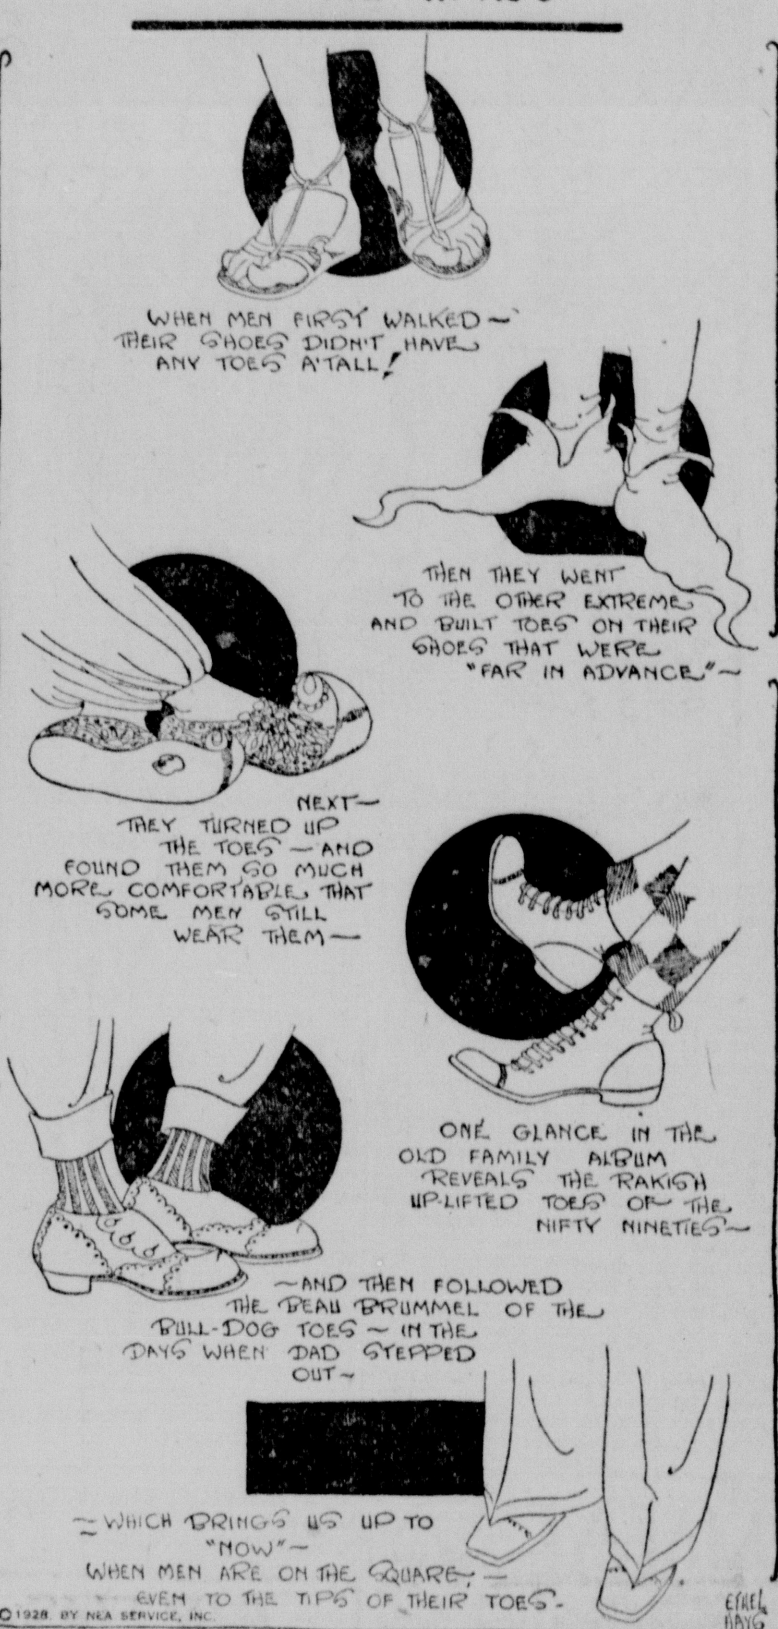

Misses Florence Wilson, Esther Kested, Aletha Hubbell, Mary Evelyn Miller, Merriam Devany and Helen Edwards, served.

The out of town guests in attendance at the wedding reception were Mrs. C. L. Candy, Glen Elynn; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jackson, Rantoul; Archie Pearse, Mr. and Mrs. George Hoyle, R. C. Donaldson, Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoyle left on a brief wedding trip by motor to Chicago and Springfield. On their return they expect to establish a home on a farm near Dixon, as the bride, who is a successful young farmer. His wife is a charming young woman. They are both popular and highly esteemed young people who are receiving the best wishes of their many friends.

The girls of the eighth grade were in charge of the serving for the upper grades and Miss Margaret Ortigiesen and Jack Longabaugh passed the refreshments to the lower classes. The pupils are very grateful to their teachers, Misses Frances Pine and Virginia Farnsworth and Mrs. Bessie Gale for the delightful refreshments which they furnished.

DON'T BE A WASTEFUL DRESSER—

By Olive Roberts Barton
American women seem to have a fear of becoming identified by their clothes. Few women will thank you for saying, "I recognized your hat," or, "I thought I knew that brown velvet dress."

We are probably the only nation on earth that feels that way. I suppose it is the American habit of trying quickly of things, that crops out in the wasteful haphazard way most Americans have of buying.

A gown in green satin, or blue chenille, or rose taffeta, and liking it for its color and style we buy it and wear it, regardless of how many other ers are blushing unseen on our closet hooks, half-worn dresses that would do nicely to the end of the season and that are going out of style with each tick of the clock.

I have been reading the clothes budgets made out by home economic experts for business girls. It is amazing on how little a woman can dress smartly. Personally I haven't much sympathy with budgets for no two women have the same dressing problem. But they conform in general so closely to the method used by experienced women of means when stocking up for a season's supply of apparel that it is of more than passing interest. A society woman wears clothes harder than anyone else. Her clothes are in constant service and they must be in perfect condition.

Yet by careful choosing she often gets along on six gowns a season, including evening gowns, afternoon gowns and sport clothes.

She makes her list, chooses carefully and buys what she needs. It is the European plan and a good one. She has no left-overs and starts each season afresh.

Sutton Courtenay, Eng., Feb. 20—(AP)—Within a hundred yards of his home for the last sixteen years and under an old yew tree close to the walls of the ancient parish church where he had loved to worship, the body of Lord Oxford and Asquith was laid to rest this afternoon.

Utterly simply marked the Liberal statesman, in whose honor a memorial service will be held in Westminster Abbey tomorrow.

The brief service was attended only by members of the family and invited friends.

PRIVATE AND PUBLIC BUSINESS.

Twenty-five years ago nearly 8 per cent of the electrical current was provided by municipal plants. Five years ago the percentage was half as large.

Two elements have contributed to this change in tendencies. One, which probably accounts for the extension of power lines to small cities from mammoth plants which radiate current long distances. The other is based upon experience showing that private operation is more efficient than public operation.

When small cities first showed their progressive tendencies by efforts to obtain electric lighting systems, they were not looked upon as profitable fields for private investment. If the city was to have electricity, it had to provide it itself. Each city, large or small, was a unit. There were no "chain" systems.

Then came the era of transmission of current considerable distances. Village and small cities granted franchise to outside corporations and were connected in a string. Villages that could not even finance a municipal plant were connected and were furnished means for using modern home equipment twenty-four hours a day, not merely the night lights that the larger neighbors had been so proud of a few years before.

We passed through a period of agitation for municipal ownership of all public utilities twenty-five years ago, but conditions have changed since then. City people have found so many more places in which they want to put their money that they prefer to allow private capital to finance utilities and to bond and tax themselves only for those things that private capital will not bring to them. We even have to appeal for private aid on projects that might well be financed from public funds.

It has required large expenditure of public money to keep our schools up to standards required if our system is to be accredited among colleges and universities. Our people want and deserve parks and playgrounds, which can be financed adequately only by public revenues. Where private property will not bear the expense, cities have to finance storm drains and long paving projects.

If private capital maintains public utilities, cities can carry out the other projects as they are demanded by the people.

PREVENTING DIPHTHERIA.

A bulletin issued by Dr. Arnold H. Kegel, Chicago's commissioner of health, stresses once again the value of diphtheria anti-toxin.

The bulletin points out that in 1880, before anti-toxin was in use, Chicago's diphtheria death rate was 290 per 100,000 of population. In 1927 it was 14.1 per 100,000. It is added that the best time to guard against disease is before it makes its appearance; in other words, that children might well be given diphtheria anti-toxin while they are in perfect health.

There is a point you might discuss with your family doctor one of these days. You may recall the old saying about the value of an ounce of prevention.

THE PILOTLESS PLANE.

A Los Angeles man is building a "pilotless airplane." Next summer, he says, this plane will fly from Los Angeles to New York without an occupant. It will be controlled entirely by radio, operated from a second plane flying half a mile behind.

The science of aeronautics, verily, has been making vast strides. It was only 25 years ago that the Wright brothers made the first airplane flight in history. Now plans are being made for a plane that will fly without anyone in it. What marvels of engineering and scientific skill have been compressed into the period between those two events!

The flyers Costes and LeBrix, who flew to us all the way from France have been sadly neglected. We haven't even seen their names in a cigaret ad.

A $1250-a-week movie star was haled into debtors' court the other day. One place where his publicity man wasn't needed.

A yawn which dislocated his jaws caused the death of a Kentuckian, aged 82. Probably reading about Mayor Walker of New York going on the water wagon.

In accordance with our custom of printing annually some little item of legal news, it is hereby formally announced that the defendant in a recent trial for automobile theft in Raleigh, N. C., was named Will Take.

We've signed a treaty with France. Next thing for some farseeing statesman to work up is a protocol with Switzerland, Lapland, Rumania, Liberia, or some other country that has us worried.

Al Smith says McAdoo doesn't know the Constitution of the United States. But maybe the gentlemen who wrote it wouldn't even recognize it now.

While the country is talking about this disappearance and that, wouldn't it be a good idea to find out what become of those fellows who used to make their living playing Hawaiian guitars?

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

When Clowny stopped his bouncing, he said, "That almost made me sick. 'Twas lots of fun, but now I am as dizzy as can be." He quickly sat down on the ground, which seemed to jump and move around. There was a haze and funniness to all that he could see.

The other Tinties also stopped, and on the ground they shortly flopped. The bouncing made them wobbly, too, and they had had enough. "I guess we'd better rest a while," said Scouty with a sickly smile. "I'm all tired out from having fun. It's made me pant and puff."

He put his head in Clowny's lap and then they all took a nap. When they woke up the dizziness was gone, and they could stand. Said Copy, "Well, I'm full of cheer. And now, where shall we go from here?" "Why, no place," answered Carpy. "Let's stay here in Rubber Land."

"Say, that's a very brilliant hunch."

(The Tinties get a big surprise in the next story.)

BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES

Marye, Dearest:

I'm glad to know you enjoyed the jelly even if I do think you have too many late parties. It may be all right for you because you can sleep all morning, but is it fair to Alan? His work is sure to suffer for it. How do you think your father got ahead in business? Not by going to bed at all hours of the morning, I assure you. He had his full eight hours of undisturbed slumber every night, and he needed it. He couldn't have kept on his feet if we'd tried to go around as much as we did before we were married.

But it seems to be that you modern girls want a beau and a husband rolled into one. You don't realize that a man can't keep up the pace he sets when he's courting you. And even if he thinks he is equal to it you ought to have sense enough, you girls, to know better. But show me the young wife who admits that there's any responsibility or obligation attached to marriage these days.

I hear girls say that everyone has a right to live her own life, and that nobody has a right to interfere with anyone else. Maybe you think that if you interfere with your husbands, then you should, they will interfere with you, whether they should or not.

Let me ask you if you'd consider it interfering if you saw Alan walking out on thin ice and warned him? It's his life just the same whether he chooses to risk it that way or through neglecting his health, but I'll bet you'd say something about the thin ice.

And if you think he isn't neglecting his health by getting to bed late and getting up just in time to dress and gulp a cup of steaming coffee that maybe he's made himself or got Elkhart, Ind.—"For some time I suffered from bearing pains and backache, my nerves were in such condition that the least thing would completely upset them. I would go all to pieces. I had black rings around my eyes and was barely able to drag myself around to do my little housework. I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it relieved me of all inward trouble, restored my nerves and made me well and strong. in a restaurant, why you just try it and see.

And if Alan insists that you go out you'll probably fly off the handle and tell him he has no consideration. And the last thing you'll think of, if he says he believes you're overdoing it, is that he's interfering. You'll call it loving thoughtfulness. It's all in the way it comes home to you, call it what you like.

You can tell Alan I'll send some more jelly and preserves and I want you to get up and make him a decent breakfast to eat with them.

With loving interference, MOTHER.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

vidual suffers from illness frequently, but has a relatively small chance of dying, and in the older years, when not only does his susceptibility to illness increase, but also his chance of death. This is due partly, of course to the nature of the illness occurring at these ages, and partly to the diminished ability to resist diseases which manifest themselves in sickness.

It is believed that one of the most important lessons to be drawn from this study is that public health has as yet barely touched the task of preventing the conditions which manifest themselves in physical and mental impairments, in inefficiency and illness, and in portenable death. Plagues and pestilences have been diminished, also infant and child mortality from infectious and intestinal disorders, and healthful living is being established more and more firmly as a public ideal, but aside from these the prevalence of disease remains as an outstanding problem yet to be solved.

LOVE OF SLAYER MATE WIPES OUT TERROR FOR GIRL

American Girl Facing Death in Canada is Seemingly Brave

By NEA Service

Montreal, Quebec —The fervid public attention which centered on Ruth Snyder in Sing Sing prison, New York, a short time ago, centers today on a 21-year-old American girl, Doris McDonald, in the Women's Jail here.

Doris McDonald is waiting in the Women's Jail for the dawn of March 23, when, with her husband, George McDonald, she is to be taken out and hanged for the murder of a taxi driver.

There is no hope for the husband. It is generally believed that there is little, if any, for the girl. Only a reprieve from Viscount Willingdon, Governor General of Canada, can save her.

She Doesn't Care
Doris McDonald, who used to boast that she was "tough", but who now is moody and acquiescent, doesn't care. From day to day she sits in her cell and mourns—not for herself, but for her husband.

"If George dies, I want to die too," she has told her guardians time and again. "I don't want to live without him. If he swings, let me swing too." It happens Doris McDonald bore the name of Snyder in childhood. She was born Elinor May With Snyder, child of Lee Snyder, now of Wheeling, W. Va., and Hazel Snyder, now of Chicago, according to the authorities. Her birthplace was Pittsburgh. She was brought up by an Oklahoma City physician. Later she lived in Mount Vernon, N. Y., and Boston. She was first married in New York in 1925. There was a divorce, and the girl then wedded George McDonald, a Canadian from Saint John, New Brunswick.

Flight Follows Crime
The couple arrived in Montreal on July 15 last year. A man giving the name of Fred Palmer accompanied them. They were check forgers and confidence tricksters, but murder wasn't in their line—then. McDonald posed as a commander in the U. S. Navy. When they disappeared two days later, they left behind a trail of unpaid bills and false notes.

A Bit of Masquerading
They left in a Packard car driven by Odelard Bouchard, French Canadian, who lived with his wife and eight children at Laché, a few miles from Montreal. Bouchard never was seen alive again.

That same night, Sunday, July 17, the trio arrived in the Packard at the Trout River Immigration Post on the Vermont border. Palmer posed as Mrs. McDonald's husband, while McDonald posed as Bouchard. But Palmer and Mrs. McDonald named different towns when asked where they were married. McDonald signed the name Bouchard as "Bourget." Mrs. McDonald was dressed in a chemise with a rug for a skirt. They were refused admission to the States and returned to Montreal, where they abandoned the car.

The next day Bouchard's lifeless body was found near the Huntington highway three miles from Trout River. He had been shot twice, and thrown face downward in a watery ditch to die. His money, $200, was stolen. Nearby was found a woman's slip, skirt, hat, shoes and stockings, some of them spattered with blood. They later were identified as Doris McDonald's.

For six weeks the McDonalds dropped completely out of sight. Then they were arrested in Butte, Montana, under the name of Carter, for passing false checks. A revolver they had was of the same calibre as the bullets found in Bouchard's body. They were extradited to Canada and trial commenced December 6 in the little country town Valleyfield. Palmer, their companion, never was found.

Offered No Defense
The evidence against them was so convincing that they did not even offer a defense, save for a mercy plea by their lawyer, R. L. Calder, K. C. Canada's most famous criminal counsel. Now, in the little jail behind the courthouse where they were tried, preparations are being made to erect the gallows from which they will drop to their deaths.

While Canada is manifesting deep interest in the prospect of a young and attractive looking woman having to march to the gibbet, there is but little public expression of sympathy for her.

A committee of New York citizens, principally residents of Mount Vernon, is preparing to intercede with the Canadian government in the girl's behalf, however.

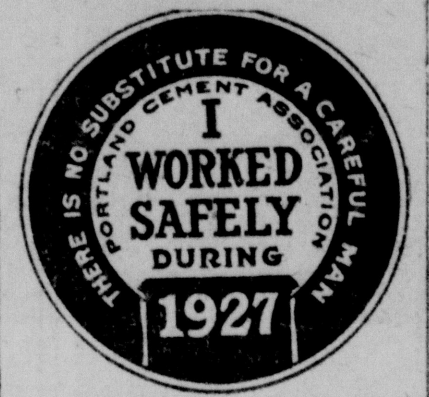

The last woman to die on the gallows in the Dominion was Mrs. Cornelia Vial, of St. Canute, Quebec, who was executed in 1899 with her lover, Sam Parslow, for the murder of her husband.

SAFE WORKERS AT CEMENT MILL ARE GIVEN REWARDS

An unusual honor of national importance was bestowed on 135 men at the Dixon mill of the Sandusky Cement Company today. These men have gone throughout the past year without either accident to themselves or others, and received the Portland Cement Association safety button and certificate attesting to their record.

It is expected this system of awards will be followed from year to year and suitable recognition will go to men completing one year or more free from accidents. Workers receiving such awards immediately become outstanding men in the plant and, because of the button, can easily be distinguished as safe workmen.

With the slogan "there is no substitute for a careful man" over forty thousand men in the cement industry are doing their utmost to cut down mishaps. The record for the past year shows the results of their efforts. Two mills went through 1927 free from accidents and indications are 12 will have a clear record in 1928.

The buttons were presented the safe workers by W. E. Wuerth, Supr. of the local mill. Commenting on the number of awards he said: "We have had a good year in safety work and we are happy so many men have been on their guard to eliminate accidents—but we will not be satisfied until every man in our mill wears a safety button and packs a safety certificate."

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers. Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative mixed with olive oil. No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action. If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime. Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 15c, 30c, 60c.

ALL-METAL FLYING STEAMSHIP BEING BUILT IN CALIF.

May Blaze New Air Trails Inventor of Ship Says

By NEA Service
Glendale, Calif.—In a few more months the steamship City of Glendale will be ready for its maiden voyage, and the launching is eagerly awaited by the world of aeronautics.

For the City of Glendale, steamship though it is, will be the first real steam propelled air liner ever to be built.

Like the boats that plough the ocean lanes, it will be built entirely of metal. Like them, too, it will be propelled by the highly efficient but cumbersome steam turbine. But for the application of this motive power it will employ a principle never before used on any craft—water or air.

Is of New Design
The City of Glendale sails as an engineering calculation indicate, a distinctly new trail will have been blazed in air travel.

If it buckles or bucks in a high wind—as many an aeronautical expert says it will—the third failure will have come to Captain Thomas B. Slate, the inventor and builder.

Two other dirigibles, designed by Captain Slate were wrecked by storms before they were completed. The new ship, snugly housed in an immense metal hangar, at least is destined to live until the day when, partly filled with gas, it will be moved out for installation of the cabin and engine.

Sees Success
But the inventor's confidence of success is growing as fast as the ship itself. He spends many hours each day directing the crews of workmen who are giving form to the maze of rods and aluminum strips that go into the hull.

"She'll fly, all right," he says. "The speed ought to be between 90 and 100 miles an hour, fast enough to go from coast to coast in 36 hours with 40 passengers. We'll have no ball rooms or swimming pools or promenade decks on this model, but she will be as comfortable as a Pullman car. Pullman type chairs will be convertible into berths, and meals will be served buffet style."

A distinctly new feature of the ship is that it seldom will have to come to the ground or be anchored at mooring masts.

"The Glendale will have a complete elevator system," explains Captain Slate. "It is built so that it can be brought to a full stop over hotel roofs or landing fields. A fuel tank will be lowered and before the fuel is taken on passengers will descend or come up on the elevator attached to the cable."

Paper-Thin Hull
The dirigible will be an all-metal bag constructed of corrugated aluminum alloy weighing only three and one-half ounces per square foot. It is one-thousandth of an inch in thickness and is placed on the frame in horizontal strips. Another strip seals each seam and makes the bag leak-proof. Contrary to the old method, there will be no gas bags on the inside of the envelope, the lift-

"Princess Anastasia's" Arrival

Close-hidden between two friends, Mme. Anastasia Tchikovsky (arrow), who claims to be the youngest daughter and only surviving member of the family of the late Czar Nicholas, of Russia, descends the gangplank of the S. S. Berengaria at New York. Her much-discussed American visit is being made at the Oyster Bay, Long Island, home of Mrs. William B. Leeds, the former Princess Xenia.

ing gas remaining free inside the shell. In addition to the simplicity of this design, it eliminates the weight of the interior bag, which on a ship the size of the Los Angeles weighs three and one-half tons.

Heretofore, every sort of air or water craft has been driven with propellers. The Slate ship, from a 500-horsepower steam turbine located just inside the blunt nose of the hull, will be driven with a "blower" with flat blades.

The "blower," rotating at 4000 revolutions per minute, throws the air away from the nose of the ship and creates a partial vacuum in front of the bag. With a diminished pressure on the nose and an increased pressure on the tail from the "slip stream" of air sent backward, the ship is forced ahead and actually propelled by air pressure. The inventor believes that the stream of air will completely envelope the entire surface of the bag and allow it to move forward without "torque" or vibration.

Need But Five Men
Only five men will be needed to man the craft, instead of the crew of 30 or 40 required by other dirigibles.

Captain Slate's plans are bounded by no narrow scope, for now, after overcoming the difficulties of financial backing and the destruction of his first two attempts, he seems on a fair way to success.

Already plans have been made for the construction of two more ships, larger and faster than the City of Glendale, which is 212 feet long and will contain 300,000 cubic feet of gas. Slate is selecting air routes all over the world which some day may be traveled by his dirigibles.

Cheap to Operate
Economy of operation, he believes will assure success of the craft as commercial ventures. He plans to carry not only passengers but freight, particularly perishable commodities that require smooth handling and

STATE MEETING OF WALTONIANS AT AURORA SOON

Followers of Izaak Walton Will Meet There Three Days

The sixth annual state convention of the Izaak Walton League of America will be held in Aurora, Kane County, Feb. 21, 22 and 23. Three hundred delegates and members, representing every chapter in Illinois, will be in attendance at the three day session.

Because of the importance of several new conservation measures to be taken up, the Aurora convention will be the most important assembly held under the state organization. Judge J. M. The new home of the Aurora Elks, one of the finest in the state, will house the convention.

The Annual Banquet, to be held at Aurora Masonic Temple on February 22, will be appropriate as a Washington Birthday Party. Prominent speakers, including Judge J. M. Dickenson and Senator Harold C. Kessinger, will be on the program. Axel Christensen, famous stage and radio comedian will head a company of entertainers. Paul Kuhn of Batavia, member of the State Labor Commission, will act as toastmaster. Convention awards, donated by manufacturers of sporting goods and equipment, will be distributed at the banquet.

The Aurora chapter of the Izaak Walton League of America, under the direction of President Harry R. Holden, has made all convention arrangements. The complete program for the three days is as follows:

OUR GREAT OUTDOOR ZOO—NO. 12

Diric Prophecies Failed to Mature

Lebanon, Ill.—(AP)—Louis Pfeffer was one of those farmers about whom friends sadly remarked, "that young fellow won't last long."

Son of a wealthy business man here, Pfeffer deserted the commercial field to enter farming. A decade later he had not only refuted his friend's forecast, but had reached the rank of a "Master Farmer."

When Pfeffer graduated from McKendree college in 1915, he convinced his father that he would rather farm than attempt to enter his father's milling business. His parent consented, but Pfeffer instead of plunging into a rural life, waited two years and enrolled at the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois. In 1917, he graduated and added a B. S. to his A. B. degree.

Shortly afterward, he purchased a 368-acre farm and set about to restore it to a profitable venture. His first task was to square up about fifteen irregular fields and spread limestone. An area of a few acres near the center of the farm was left as a site for buildings. The remainder of the land was divided into four large fields of approximately 80 acres each. Old fences were removed, ditches filled and fence rows cleared of years of accumulation of brush.

Fertility of the soil partially rebuilt by a judicious use of limestone, Pfeffer saw the first satisfactory result of his work two years later in 1919 when he harvested nearly $10,000 worth of red clover seed from 100 acres of land.

In the meantime, however, the war had drawn him away from the farm to the air service. Upon his return, he was married and took up his work on the farm once again.

The production of cash grain, including soft winter wheat, certified soybeans and corn is Pfeffer's chief occupation. He also breeds a large herd of Poland China hogs and feeds several loads of cattle each winter.

JOHNSON AIDS SAILOR OBTAIN PENSION CHECK

Congressman Interested Self in Case of Chicagoan

BY JOHN H. BYERS.

Secretary to William R. Johnson.

Member of Congress.

Stephen Blatz of Chicago, late of the U. S. Navy, is drawing a pension from his Government of $160 per month, allowed January 5, 1928. On January 20, 1928 he was given a check for $704, back pension. About the middle of August 1927 he filed his application with the Commissioner of Pensions. August 21, 1927 he was discharged from the service. Congressman William R. Johnson of Freeport, Ill., is the man, who by his untiring efforts, secured the pension for Blatz. Blatz was a stranger to the congressman, and, as stated above, is a citizen of Chicago, and not of the 13th congressional district represented by Mr. Johnson.

Blatz enlisted in the naval service June 14, 1923 at Chicago and had made a splendid record.

There is an interesting story connected with Blatz and his pension. I am going to tell it, relating how it all happened and how Congressman Johnson became interested in the young fellow.

Lost His Leg.
Stephen Blatz, machinist's mate 2nd class U. S. N., lost his leg above the knee by slipping from the wing of a seaplane into the machine's propeller as the plane was at the Pearl Islands, near the Canal Zone. His leg was badly mangled by the blades of the propeller and it was later amputated above the knee at the Ancon Hospital.

The air-boat was piloted by Lieutenant Gray of the Coco Solo Naval Air station and was one of the six which flew across the Isthmus. Many persons watched the planes as they flew about in formation. About 10:15 o'clock the forenoon of February 1, 1927, one was seen to descend in the water near the Fortified Islands. It was plane No. 6 and it landed to rush Blatz to the hospital. The injured man was taken ashore at pier 17, Balboa. Blatz was standing on one of the wings of the plane when he slipped and his foot caught in the whirling propeller.

Blatz remained in the Ancon Hospital from Feb. 1, 1927 until March 10, 1927. He left Panama on March 20, 1927 aboard the U. S. Christobal and arrived at the Naval Hospital, Brooklyn, N. Y., on March 28, 1927.

On Inspection Trip.
Congressman Johnson, with a delegation of congressmen was making an inspection trip through the Canal Zone. The party left Washington, D. C., a few days after the adjournment of the 69th Congress, March 4, 1927. Many members of the congressional party, including Congressman Johnson, returned to New York on the Christobal, the same boat that brought Blatz to the hospital at Brooklyn. While walking the deck Congressman Johnson noticed the crippled young man sitting near the ship's railing looking out into the sea.

"Hello there my poor chap, what are you thinking about," said the Congressman.

"Well, sir, I am just wondering if I had better jump overboard or take a chance with life," the young man replied.

"To jump overboard would be a foolish thing to do. Hold your head up and keep a stiff upper lip and all will be well with you. The Government of the United States, in whose navy you are serving, will do the right thing by you," said Congressman Johnson.

Asked Johnson's Aid.
"Who will help me? I do not know a soul to whom I can go for help. I live in a great city and do not know who my congressman is, so I cannot expect much help from my Government," replied Blatz.

"Now, don't let that worry you for one minute. I am a member of Congress and if you will write me a letter when you reach the hospital at Brooklyn I will gladly help you and I shall do everything possible to get your case taken care of by the naval authorities at Washington," answered Mr. Johnson. Until the ship docked at New York Congressman Johnson and the young man became good friends. In fact, the congressman had the wounded boy for his guest all the way to New York.

In about one week after Blatz entered the Naval Hospital at Brooklyn Congressman Johnson received a letter from the lad asking him to help him. Immediately upon receipt of the letter the congressman got busy and letter after letter was written and personal visits made to the offices of the Naval authorities in an effort to get assistance.

Congressman Johnson soon found that he had the cooperation of the Naval Officers and soon he had the boy's pension claim pretty well along through the Bureau of Pensions.

To make a long story short, on January 5, 1928, Blatz was granted a pension of $160 per month, commencing August 22, 1927, which gave him a back pension of $704. He was given a check for that amount on January 13, 1928.

Blatz was ordered to Washington to receive his money, but when he left the hospital he was financially broke and his hospital pals took up a collection for him. He received about thirty dollars from the boys and he started on his journey to receive his check.

The crippled boy wrote Congressman Johnson, saying: "My dear Congressman, I do not know how I can thank you for what you did for me. I appreciate your services so much. You came to me a stranger, but you stayed by me in all my trouble like a father. When I get back to Chicago to my poor mother I intend to go to school and try and make something out of myself. May God bless you, Mr. Johnson. I wish there were more men in public life just like you."

I have written this story just to show that a congressman often does things for people whom they do not know and who do not live in his district. I have given you this story for the congressman's secretary. I know that he is much too modest to relate it himself.

"Bill" Johnson, as he is known by almost everyone in his district, is a big man physically, but his heart is almost as big as his body. This is only one of the many things he has done for poor and unfortunate people, in his district and out of it, and no one knows any better than I do, for I have served him as his private secretary since he entered congress.

Death Rate in Illinois Below Any Other State

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 20.—(AP)—Exhortations proclaiming the healthful climate of California would be more appropriate if they were applied to Illinois. Dr. I. D. Rawlings, state health director, has found in a survey of the death rate of America's most densely populated states.

Figures compiled give Illinois the lowest death rate of any area in North America with four million or more inhabitants. California has the highest.

Spreading the investigations over a period of seven years, he found 50,000 less deaths reported in Illinois since 1920, than for the period from 1913 to 1920.

"The passing of 1927 marked the close of the healthiest seven year period in the history of the state," Dr. Rawlings said. "Although population increased by nearly one million during that time, the actual number of deaths declined by approximately 50,000, and the average annual death rate per 1,000 people fell from 13 percent to 11.4 percent. This improvement made Illinois, unquestionably, the healthiest big state in the nation."

His compilation showed that 12,000 more people died in California in the seven-year period than in Illinois. The states surveyed were Illinois, California, Massachusetts, New York, Michigan, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

"The improvement of health conditions in Illinois," he said, "has resulted chiefly from progress and against tuberculosis, diphtheria, typhoid fever, diarrheal disorders and other communicable diseases. Last year there were 3,104 fewer deaths than in 1926."

"Or course, mortality from the old age diseases has been creeping up, but folks are not immortal so that as younger people are saved through public health services from communicable diseases, they succumb later in life to the ailments that await advancing age."

President Dislikes

Congress Liberality

Washington, Feb. 18.—(AP)—President Coolidge is out of sympathy with the course Congress is pursuing in respect to appropriations, farm relief and flood control, and he believes the chances for tax reduction now are critically endangered.

He feels that the two Houses have been too liberal in appropriating federal funds and that as a result tax reduction is correspondingly remote. He has noted that in addition to the $65,000,000 increase in the proposed tax curtailment voted by the House, Congress had added $8,000,000 to the Army appropriation.

The flood control bill given to the House by its flood committee does not meet the President's desires because it provides that the government bear the entire expense of protecting the Mississippi Valley. Mr. Coolidge clings to his belief that communities

CAN YOU HONK A HORN?

It doesn't take long for some people to make the HORN HONK when the view on the sidewalk is right. In letter golf, however, according to the editor's count, it takes five strokes. Perhaps you can beat the solution printed on page 9.

THE RULES

1—The idea of letter golf is to change one word to another and do it in four, a given number of strokes. Thus to change COW to HEN, in three strokes, COW, HOW, HEW, HEN.

2—You can change only one letter at a time.

3—You must have a complete word, of common usage, for each pump. Slang words and abbreviations don't count.

4—The order of letters cannot be changed.

concerned should pay a part, and he is considering designation of a special committee to determine just how much those cities could contribute toward the cost, if Congress cannot obtain that information itself.

The farm relief bill recently approved by the Senate agriculture committee, with its equalization fee, draws from the President the same objection that prompted him to veto last year the McNary-Haugen bill.

Enlarged Harbor is Plan of Chicagoans

Chicago.—(AP)—Presentation of a $5,000,000 plan for broadening of Chicago's harbor facilities to cope with the increased traffic that is anticipated with the completion of the historic Illinois Waterway project, has been made by the Chicago Commercial club. The program was developed by a commission headed by Major Rufus W. Putnam and cost $50,000 in the two years necessary to complete it.

The plan involves the construction of a large terminal on the Sanitary Canal, costing $1,300,000; and improvement of the present Municipal pier to the extent of $2,000,000, and the building of the first unit of the Lake Calumet harbor with necessary accessories, $1,300,000.

Although the three-named projects form the main basis of the program, the club is also advocating a complete industrial and commercial harbor south of the mouth of the Calumet river, and the dredging of the Grand Calumet river from the Indiana Harbor canal to the Little Calumet river.

"With the Illinois waterway nearing completion," the club said in a statement, "the new harbor plan would have to be pushed to partial completion so that no time would be lost in utilizing the waterway."

Under the plans submitted, the improvements at the Municipal pier would provide facilities adequate to handling ocean-going as well as lake vessels. The proposed large terminal on the Sanitary canal at Crawford avenue was suggested as the logical site of a traffic center, being the central point of the city for commercial and industrial areas. The Calumet river harbor would also be constructed to meet requirements of ocean-going vessels, under the club's plans.

A Local Corporation

A corporation is a convenient method of holding property, someone has said.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is thus "convenient" to more than 55,900 people who have elected to invest their savings in a great enterprise.

Men and women from every walk of life are shareholders in this corporation. Their number is equal to the population of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, a goodly city. If they were grouped together in a city of shareholders, its population would be as varied as any other city's—numbering people of all ages, occupations and fortunes.

A great many of the 55,900 shareholders of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) would find it impossible to own any sort of business individually. They have only small amounts of money to invest, earned by hard work and saved by thrift and sacrifice.

Yet in cooperation with other stockholders of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) they are able to own a business that covers 10 states and serves 30 million people.

They are able to share in the earnings of the large scale production of a well-run, efficient business.

They are able to invest their money as securely and profitably as men of larger means.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is more than a method of holding property which 55,900 people have found convenient.

It is a method of pooling energy and interests, as well as money, to the advantage of all concerned. 29,573 men and women, 15,325 of whom are stockholders, give their time and effort, and whole-hearted loyalty to the work of this corporation.

Their combined energies accomplish an enormous task and earn for them the rewards they have a right to expect.

Opportunities are unlimited in the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). Promotions are won by ability and effort. This democratic policy and the size of the organization give each individual a chance to invest his ability where it will accomplish most and earn a proportionate reward.

The money of stockholders, the effort and ability of employees are combined in the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to serve 30 million people in the Middle West.

The great group that owns it—the great group that operates it—have assumed the obligation of supplying the motorists of the Middle West with petroleum products of unquestioned quality at prices which are reasonable and fair.

They discharge this obligation with precision, enthusiasm and integrity of purpose.

What was happening a few years ago in Jackson's Hole, Wyo. Thousands of elk were dying of starvation. The last big elk herd in America was threatened.

A nation of sportsmen was aroused established by the Izaak Walton and a new hay-growing refuge was League. The refuge was recently turned over to the government. Feeding on the Walton League refuge began this month.

It was officially turned over to the federal government last August, and added to the present government refuge, doubling the total size of the refuge.

Feeding the elk begins in February, sometimes in March, when the last of the native grasses have been exhausted. Due to unusually mild winters, this is the first time the hay of the Walton Refuge has been called upon to pull the herd through to spring.

Chicago, Feb. 20—Feeding of approximately four thousand elk on the Izaak Walton League Elk Refuge, Jackson's Hole, Wyoming, began last week according to word received at National Headquarters of the League here from the Biological Survey.

The refuge, comprising 2000 acres of haylands, is devoted to raising feed to help carry the Yellowstone Park elk herd through the severe winter months. It was purchased by the League by popular subscription in 1925, following the loss of thousands of elk in Jackson's Hole by starvation.

The elk that winter in the Hole are the same that are viewed by tourists in summer in Yellowstone Park, and comprise the largest single elk herd in the world. It is estimated that the herd now numbers twenty thousand animals.

The work of preserving the last big elk herd is considered by conservationists and sportsmen to be the outstanding conservation measure of the present decade.

The Walton League now is working to stop the death of millions of wild ducks in the West through alkali water poisoning.

Plane Pilot Killed in Mid-air by Blast

Macon, Ga., Feb. 18 (AP)—Its pilot killed in mid-air by the premature explosion of an aerial bomb, an airplane entered in the Southeastern Air Derby, in progress here, crashed down into Cherry Street, main business thoroughfare, today, killing the other occupant, perhaps fatally injuring one pedestrian and inflicting slight hurts to a score or more.

The dead are Buck Steele, veteran aviator, and stunt performer of Shreveport, La., and an instructor at a Macon flying school, who was at the controls, and Francis Ashcraft, a brother of another instructor here, whose home was said to have been in Missouri.

The aviators were tossing out the bombs as a part of the air carnival from an altitude of about 7,000 feet. One of the missiles appeared to have struck a wing of the plane and exploded prematurely, instantly killing Steele, who was decapitated.

The craft went into a tail spin while hundreds of persons in Cherry Street looked on in horror. Shouted words of warning failed to clear the thoroughfare entirely, one man being grazed by a wing of the plane just as it hurtled to the street and several others being struck by wreckage hurled through the air by the impact.

Part of the sidewalk collapsed under the impact of the crash and precipitated a dozen or more onlookers into the cellar of a store. Many of the pedestrians received their injuries here.

Four of Alleged Theft Ring Held

Carlyle, Ill., Feb. 18 (AP)—The Clinton County grand jury, in special session, returned indictments against four alleged members of a theft ring alleged to have stolen approximately $200,000 worth of goods in central and southern Illinois the last four years.

Those indicted were Pearl Hoskinson, alias Olin Red, three counts; Fred Wright, two counts; E. F. Wright, alias Goose Wright; and David Fishman, alias Cutty Fishman, Springfield, Ill., bond was fixed at $1,800 on each count.

Hoskinson, who is serving time in the penitentiary, several months ago signed a confession covering forty typewritten pages. Since then officials of Marion, Coles, Clinton and other counties have been investigating and twelve persons have been arrested in various parts of the state.

Inmates Rescued

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 18 (AP)—One hundred and seventy five patients of the Hamilton county infirmary were carried or assisted to safety when fire broke out in the hospital of the institution today.

Cold weather, a driving snow, and wet and slippery pavement made the work of rescue difficult. Most of the patients were feeble or helpless.

The fire originated in the basement and the smoke was so dense it enveloped the entire three story brick building.

Seek Letters Written

by Robert Ingersoll

Peoria, Ill.—(AP)—Letters written by Peoria's greatest citizen, Robert G. Ingersoll, are sought by his granddaughter, Eva Ingersoll Swasey of Riverdale, Conn., for inclusion in a "new and intimate portrayal" of him. Mrs. Swasey has appealed to all residents of the state who have letters written by Col. Ingersoll, to send her either the originals or copies. Although she does not plan to utilize every letter, she desires copies of as many as are obtainable, to enable her to more correctly gauge each missive's significance.

Strictly legal or business letters will not be included in the collection, Mrs. Swasey said. "Unless they throw light upon some particular point of economics, law or justice."

"I shall," she said, "confine myself to letters concerning matters of more general interest—his ideas on science, religion, truth, morality, art, beauty, politics."

and will also include some letters written to her.

"I am now preparing a biography. My only purpose is to edit and publish a collection of Col. Ingersoll's letters, arranged in chronological groups, with brief explanatory notes. It is my aim to reveal the man—his heart, mind and spirit—with as great a degree of fidelity and truth as can be done through the medium of a book of his letters."

Mrs. Swasey recalls that Col. Ingersoll "had the warmest and truest admiration for all his splendid and illustrious contemporaries in Illinois. He considered that there was a more brilliant galaxy at that time in Illinois than any other state could boast in any other period of American history."

Col. Ingersoll practiced law in Peoria for many years, after a career as lawyer and school teacher in other Illinois towns. He was state attorney general under Governor Oglesby, and was defeated in a race for United States Senator in 1880.

Estem which he is remembered in Peoria is shown by a recent editorial in The Peoria Transcript, written by Frederick A. Stowe, as follows:

"Robert G. Ingersoll was undoubtedly the most widely known person who ever lived in Peoria. The fact that he was opposed by his generation does not alter the fact that he was internationally famed as an orator and 'free thinker'."

"Today, Ingersoll would be conventional enough; in his day he was the chief of iconoclasts."

WRESTLERS ARE READY FOR BIG MATCH THIS EVE

Lewis and Stecher to Decide Championship of Mat Tonight

St. Louis, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Before the roosters start crowing in the dawn of tomorrow, the world's heavyweight wrestling throne will have a legitimate occupant for the first time in seven years.

Ed "Strangler" Lewis and Joe Stecher, two of the foremost grapplers of the heavyweight division, each claiming the title, will wrestle to a finish here tonight to settle their dispute over the championship. The prospects are that the match will draw $85,000, a record "gate" for wrestling.

Indications today were that the gate receipts would eclipse the previous high mark of $78,000 taken in for the world's championship engagement between Frank Gotch and George Hackenschmidt in the White Sox park in Chicago in 1912. The advance sale, according to Promoter Tom Packs, had hit the $50,000 mark with the late customers still to storm the ticket windows.

Promoter Packs was prepared to handle a capacity crowd of 9,300, but was not certain that the match would result in a sell out.

Follows Evangelist. The bout will be staged in the Coliseum, which has been used by Billy Sunday for revival meetings. When the Rev. Sunday's last prayer died away last night, a force of carpenters swarmed into the place to transform the building into an arena.

The match will be to a positive finish, with the winner getting two falls. There will be no time limit or other tricks of the wrestling game imposed. Harry S. Sharpe of St. Louis, a ring official of 25 years experience, will referee.

With three preliminary matches to precede them, Lewis and Stecher are scheduled to settle down to their task about 10 p. m. If the match lasts as long as most contests of major importance, the first rays of tomorrow's sun may be streaking through the windows before either register the required two falls.

Wrestled Five Hours. They wrestled in Omaha in 1916 for five hours, without a winner being declared, and the bitterness smoldering between them since their last engagement has increased instead of abated. When they last met in New York in 1920, Lewis won the title from Stecher, in a one-fall match. Stecher says he was promised a return match, which Lewis declined to grant. This was responsible for the back-ground of bitterness which makes tonight's match so important.

There has been little or no betting on the outcome of tonight's match, although Stecher, because of his frequent matches in St. Louis has been installed a slight favorite. Neither will have a weight advantage.

age. Lewis intends going into the ring weighing about 226 pounds, while Stecher expects to scale about 225.

Lewis presents a very remarkable change in appearance as a result of two months training. He has knocked off about 23 pounds. There are unmistakable signs that the "Big Bear" has taken his training seriously and is ready for a long drawn out battle.

Stecher says he does not intend to play a waiting game, but will tear into Lewis at the start, provided Lewis displays any inclination to mix. Lewis says he will go out to win as quickly as possible.

WESLEYAN LOOKS LIKE WINNER IN LITTLE NINETEEN

Methodists, Unrecognized Early, Hold Lead in Race

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 20.—(AP)—Illinois Wesleyans University looked upon earlier in the basketball season as a weakling, was today virtually the Little 19 Conference basketball champion. The Methodists have been a consistent playing aggregation that brought down the praise of each opponent met and conquered. In addition to the conference clashes, the Wesleyan squad gained added recognition when they battled Notre Dame's cagers and held the Irish to a close score.

Tomorrow Wesleyan is to meet Coach Robertson's Bradley Indians. The Indians, potential conference champions earlier in the season, are now striving with the leaders. The "Mighty McQueen" sophomore cager from the hilltop campus, was stopped by Wesleyan, and is hoped to be stopped again at Bloomington tomorrow. Bradley took a virtual drubbing from St. Viator Saturday, due to the fact that the Green quintet suffered a heavy defeat at the hands of the Indians at their first meeting early this month. Wesleyan gave Augustus a short score Saturday to strengthen its title lead.

Wallie Roettger, coach of the Wesleyan squad, gained his first recognition with the Illinois when participating in athletics in and around Urbana several years ago. Roettger deserves credit, due to the fact that at the beginning of the season, the shoes of Ross Anderson all-conference center of a year ago, had to be filled. In addition, the lack of suitable substitutes was appalling. By shifting Baker, forward, to the back court and placing Hugo Lindquist, in the pivot berth from a forward position, Roettger, with the addition of Meehan and Buckley forwards, and Fritz Rhea, giant Methodist guard, was able to mould a machine that has successfully defied any offensive movement by conference opponents this season.

One dependable substitute is Mace, another one of those diminutive packages, who has a world of fight, and is a clever ball handler. Mace is usually inserted wherever he is needed. The Wesleyan cager has yet to start a game in the lineup, although he has played virtually half of the games regularly. In reality, he does not deserve the name of a substitute. "Substitutes" said one coach, "are the backbone of the squad. Without them, we could not possibly have a team." Roettger Mace and five regulars.

How the leaders look:

Team	W	L	Pct
Wesleyan	9	0	1.000
Western	7	1	.875
Carbondale	7	1	.875
Bradley	8	2	.800
DeKalb	4	1	.800
St. Viator	6	2	.750

NATIONAL BOXING ASSN. RULES MAY PREVENT BATTLES

And Promoter Mullen Asks Few Pertinent Questions Today

Chicago, Feb. 20.—(AP)—The latest move of the National Boxing Association in demanding $5,000 forfeits from Sammy Mandell and Mickey Walker to insure defense of their boxing titles next summer, has drawn a fiery counter-proposal from Jim Mullen, the prospective promoter of both these championship matches.

Mullen's proposition is to match the six specified challengers in each division in three bouts, the outstanding performer of the card to get the title "shot". If the N. B. A. will help him sign the contenders, Mullen offered to promote the show himself, giving each boxer ten percent of the gate receipts, which, he figured, would run about $50,000.

How About Heavies?

"It's funny the National Boxing Association doesn't try to do something about the heavyweight title situation, too," said Mullen. "The titleholder of the heavyweights does not fight often, and once a year, and there are challengers—Sharkey and Delaney for instance—who could put up just as good a fight against Tunney as Dempsey. In 20 rounds of boxing in their two meetings, Dempsey only won two rounds from Tunney and there are others who could do that well."

"If the N. B. A. is serious about its six tentacles for the lightweight and middleweight titles, let's have an elimination series to see which one is the best, and then the public might get interested. Some of the challengers named by the N. B. A. would not draw enough to pay the ushers."

"I have both Mandell and Walker signed to defend their titles if the N. B. A. will contribute some help instead of merely interfering."

Match Threatened

Mullen's predicament threatens to prevent the match between Mandell and Jackie Fields here Thursday night. The N. B. A. insists upon Mandell's $5,000 forfeit before permitting that contest to go on. Mandell's prospective opponent next June in the title match is Jimmy McEmin, but McEmin encounters Sid Terris on Friday night, and until McEmin has proved himself master of Terris, Mullen hesitates to sign either one. One day's difference in the dates complicates the situation.

Mandell's manager, Eddie Kane, promised to call on the Illinois State Athletic Commission today to find out why the $5,000 forfeit was demanded.

"Mandell has signed to defend his title as the N. B. A. asked," said Kane. "What more could be demanded?"

Americans Second in Winter Contest

St. Moritz, Switzerland, Feb. 20.—(AP)—The rugged athletes of Norway have successfully defended their Olympic Winter sports championship. The United States finished second, Sweden third.

On the final day of competition the American contingent won the bobsleigh finals yesterday, William Fiske landing first place and John Heaton, second. The sleds hummed over the ice at a sixty-mile-an-hour clip. Heaton registered the fastest descent in a glide down the chute with

Englishman Winner Auto Speed Trophy

Daytona Beach, Fla., Feb. 20.—(AP)—The laurel which signifies attainment of the highest speed at which an automobile has yet been driven has been lifted from the brow of one Englishman to rest on that of another.

Captain Malcolm Campbell of London yesterday flung his huge Napier Blue Bird special over the sands of the beach here at the rate of 206.95602 miles per hour, eclipsing by more than three miles an hour the mark established here last year by Major H. O. D. Seagrave, of England.

The new record came while two others also awaited an opportunity to test their machines against time. Frank Lockhart, of Indianapolis with a Stutz Blackhawk special, and J. M. White of Philadelphia, with a 36-cylindered triplex which had not yet been accorded official sanction for the try, because of mechanical discrepancies.

Captain Campbell, after his successful dash of a mile up the beach in 16.76 seconds, at a rate of more than 214 miles per hour, and his mile run back down against a stiff gale exceeding 199, to make up his official mile, said he had not anticipated a formal effort at the record when he started out. But for the fact he took only a four mile rolling start, said the Captain he would have bettered the record still more.

"My motor had not even begun to pick up good when I crossed the mile stretch," he said. "It was making about 208 miles an hour when I crossed the wire and did not pick up until I had passed the half mile mark. Just before I finished the mile, I glanced at my instruments and was making 220 miles an hour."

Big Track Contest in New York Tonight

New York, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Olympic, American and inter-collegiate champions are listed among the stars who will compete in the annual indoor games of the New York Athletic Club in Madison Square Garden tonight.

Roland Locke, Nebraska sprint flash, Lloyd Hahn of the Boston A. and Sabin Carr of Yale are numbered in the big track array.

Carr, world's record holder in the pole vault will endeavor to establish a new indoor mark.

Hahn competes in the Baxter mile against Jimmy Connolly of the New York A. C.; Sydney Robinson, former Mississippi A. & M. College star; William Sullivan, ex-Georgetown miler; and J. J. Elliott of the University of North Carolina.

In his initial appearance in New York, Locke, who holds the world's record for 220 yards, will race in a 60-yard dash against a field of America's crack sprinters, including Karl Wildermuth, Jackson Scholz, Frank Hussey, Al Miller, Henry Russell and James Daley.

The 70-yard high hurdles brings out among others W. O. Baskin, the former Alabama hurdler and winner of the hurdle event at the Penn Relays and the National Collegiate Championships last spring; E. M. Wells of Dartmouth, the intercollegiate champion; F. Collier of Brown, record holder for the 45-yard hurdles; S. Harrison Thompson, formerly of Princeton and Oxford.

Dixon Teams Dropped Second Double Header

Coach Arthur Bowers basketball squad failed to recover from Friday night's double defeat at the hands of the Rochelle crew, and suffered another twin loss at Mt. Morris Saturday evening. Some of the fans who witnessed the games say that Mt. Morris shot baskets from every angle of the floor and played a regular variety style of game throughout the evening.

This slowed Dixon's teams up and in the curtain raiser, the lightweights lost by a score of 14 to 9. When the smoke had cleared away in the main event of the evening, the score board showed that Dixon's heavyweight crew had suffered defeat to the tune of 28 to 14. This gave Dixon's squad a record of four games played and four games lost over the week end without a cripple on either team.

Purdue and Badgers Tied for Leadership

Chicago, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Three weeks from the finish, the first division teams of the Western Conference were closely bunched today in the race for the basketball championship, with ties for both the lead and the runner-up position. The nine games on this week's program will go far toward settling the title.

Purdue and Wisconsin share the ranking honors, the Purdue team losing to Indiana 40-37 Saturday for its first defeat in six starts. The two leaders have three games apiece this week, meeting each other twice, Thursday and Saturday. Victory in both games would go far to insure a championship for either squad.

Northwestern and Indiana continued their deadlock for third place, and take things easy this week with only one match scheduled. Indiana plays Ohio Wednesday and Northwestern tackles Michigan Saturday.

Michigan, fighting to stay in the running, gets a crack at Purdue and Northwestern. The Michigan five must take both games, and the other two on their schedule besides, to keep in the title race.

Purdue lost its first game of the year on fouls, giving Indiana a chance to count fourteen points from the free throw line. Purdue led in field goals 15 to 13. At one time, late in the second half, Purdue was 17 points behind.

The leaders, Purdue and Wisconsin both will see action tonight. Purdue will have its own floor for the battle ground with Michigan while Wisconsin goes to Iowa Saturday and Saturday nights of this week, the first game being at Madison, the second on the Purdue court.

ROLLS PERFECT GAME

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 20.—(AP)—A perfect score of 300 breaking of several records and crowning of the 1928 five men team champion featured yesterday's rolling in the International Bowling Assn. meet here.

Frank Kartheiser of the Minneraters of Chicago achieved the 300 total, getting 12 straight strikes on his final game in the doubles for the first such mark ever made in an I. B. A. tournament. His total of 2,009 for nine games also set what was believed to be the world's record for the all-events in a major tournament.

The Andrews Hotel five of Minneapolis won the team championship of the I. B. A. with their grand total of 3,204, also claimed as a world record for major tournament competition.

SPORT SLANTS

BY ALAN J. GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

New York, Feb. 20.—(AP)—The olive branch seems about to be entwined with the turbulent tennis racket.

The entwining is being accomplished by the new chief executive of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, Samuel H. Collow of Philadelphia.

In employing practical measures calculated to promote harmony in the tennis family, particularly so far as the Davis Cup campaign is concerned, Mr. Collow is in the happy position of having the confidence of the old guard of the U. S. L. T. A. As well as the close friendship of the tall gentleman of the courts, W. T. Tilden II.

As he has outlined his Davis Cup program for The Associated Press for the benefit of those who may be concerned about his policy Mr. Solomons makes these two salient starting points.

1. The recognition of the fact that Tilden is the main reliance of the playing forces; that he is far and away the greatest American singles performer with no younger talent ripe enough to replace him, and, as a partner of Francis T. Hunter, the dynamo of the greatest doubles combination in the world at the present time.

2. The formation of a Davis Cup committee, that will work harmoniously with Tilden, remove any sources of friction and push a campaign designed to put America's best foot forward this year as well as to build up playing strength for the future.

The opening match for the United States, against Mexico, probably will be played in Mexico City during the Easter holiday season. The second match, with China, will be played either in San Francisco or Kansas City in May and the American zone final in Chicago, the first week of June.
